

BHOLD and SOLVIS Ltd become partners

Naarden and Basel, 21 January 2009 – BHOLD, the market leading vendor of Enterprise Authorization Management (EAM) solutions, and SOLVIS, the Swiss IT Security specialist with a focus on Identity and Access Management (IAM) solutions, have entered into a strategic partnership. Solvis will provide expertise and services based on the BHOLD solution in Switzerland.

“BHOLD is a global technology provider that is expanding rapidly and relies on its partner network to provide all customers the best possible and most complete EAM solution. To be successful, we look for the most renowned partners in the field of IAM. SOLVIS is a well-known independent specialist in IT Security, offering its customers top quality solutions. The team of security experts within SOLVIS has an excellent standing in Switzerland. We have found a valuable partner in SOLVIS and are proud to work with them.” says Maarten Stultjens, responsible for business development at BHOLD.

“SOLVIS is very proud to have found BHOLD and its impressive suite of software in the EAM market. In addition of being a solution developed with major auditing companies, the modularity and the architecture of the solution delivers the exact flexibility the Swiss market has been looking for. SOLVIS is looking forward to this strategic partnership.” declares Didier Assandri, Managing Director and co-founder of SOLVIS Ltd.

About SOLVIS Ltd.

SOLVIS is a recognized expert in enterprise people management, business process management and enterprise security management and its broad outlook allows it to master even highly complex challenges in these fields. Our staff is made up of Information Technology professionals of many different nationalities, each with an international background and with decades of experience between them.

www.solvis.ch

About BHOLD

BHOLD Company is the market leading provider of Enterprise Authorization Management (EAM) software, offering a complete solution for professional security administration. The BHOLD EAM software includes a.o. role management, self service and approval workflow, attestation, role mining and implementation tooling. BHOLD is supported by a worldwide specialist partner network and is regarded by analysts as "the most established firm in the role management area showing maturity with a solid understanding of market needs".

www.bholdcompany.com